The family that eats together, stays together. If everyone's involved in the growing part of your food, you get a double helping of happiness.

Top of the menu are tasty toppings for pizza night. Do you know your onions? They're an easy start for grow-your-own goodies, as are peppers and chillies, oregano, basil and parsley for authentic Italian flavours. Enjoy the sweet taste of success with home-grown tomatoes.

Dedicate a small area of your garden as pizza parade, mark it into "slices", and plant your ingredients. No garden? Pots are fine.

The fun is in the planting together, and watching everything grow. Soon you'll be tucking into a pizza crowned with everyone's efforts. Quality time, and quality food. What's not to like?
