The pattern includes various floral elements: roses, daisies, and small berries on thin stems with leaves. The text is centered and written in a white, elegant, cursive script. It is arranged in four lines, with the first line being the longest and the last line being the shortest, creating a balanced, heart-like shape for the overall composition.

The pattern consists of various floral and botanical elements, including roses, smaller five-petaled flowers, sprigs of leaves, and clusters of small berries or buds. The text "All of me loves all of you" is written in a large, elegant, white cursive script, centered vertically and horizontally. Below the main text, the attribution "- John Legend" is written in a smaller, simpler white font.
