We Are One Body/Somos Un Cuerpo

We are called to welcome and celebrate the beautiful diversity of our Church. This is a great opportunity to unite, inspire, and share our testimonies as bridges of unity and healing with our ministries.

Unmatched Courage

Throughout the history of the church, Christians have demonstrated unmatched courage in defending the faith, living a heroic life of witnessing to Jesus, and even laying down their lives for what they believe. As Catholic Christians today, we too must tap into the same strength that God has promised. We must respond to His command to be strong and courageous in our world. It isn't something just for the few. We are all called to live our lives in a way that makes a compelling case for Jesus Christ.

13 Reasons Why Your Life Matters: A Catholic Response to the Culture of Death

The workshop will include a brief testimony of my own battle with depression during high school and college and 13 reasons why a young person should embrace the dignity, beauty and meaning of their own life. I will also give some practical advice for anyone who knows someone who is struggling with thoughts of suicide. I will allude to some cultural trends I see alive on my own campus at Walsh University, where our motto is "Where You Matter." I will include a printout for attendees of the 13 reasons, which they can take home with them to use in their own ministry or to share friends who are struggling.

Blessed Are the Introverts Sarah Hart

You just got the text from your Life Night group, and it contains the two words that strike fear into your perfect introverted heart: COLOR WAR. Mom and dad want you to go. "It'll be fun", they say! You are having an anxiety attack just thinking about it. I know this pain so well! I get the longing to belong, but the lack of desire for anything that smacks of extroversion. GOOD NEWS! Our sense of belonging is rooted deeply in Christ! Come learn and listen about why introverts are not only okay, but absolutely necessary in the Kingdom of God. Discover a little more about how your faith of introversion is beautiful. Sarah will lead you with humor, true stories, and songs (but don't worry...you don't have to sing if you don't want to, and no hand motions required).

My Kids Still Like Me, Thank God!

Are you at a loss for how to reach your kids? Does it seem like they are more interested in their iPhone and iPad than they are in a relationship with you? How can you get through to them? How do you discipline them? How do you bring them Jesus when it seems like they are not listening and do not seem to care? Join Chris as he helps you to understand how to maintain a strong relationship with your children that is based upon mutual respect and love. As a certified life coach Chris has learned how to create an environment where his children want to be at home and feel like they belong with their parents. Parenting can be a great joy. Come and learn what has made all the difference in the life of the Muglia family.
