“Your Mama Don’t Dance” Featuring Huey Lewis

Studio musicians that frequent Sacramento, CA. The Track Shack Studios, joined Chuck Bari (aka Chuck Hansen), to record this new version of Loggins & Messina’s ‘Your Mama Don’t Dance,’ featuring Huey Lewis.

Anchored by former Tower of Power lead guitarist & executive producer, Jeff Tamelier, and sound engineer, Peter De Leon, the team recorded old friend Huey Lewis vox & harmonica to re-introduce this (nearly) 50-year-old classic (#5 on U.S. Billboard Chart, 1972).

A chance first meeting of Huey Lewis & Chuck Hansen after one of his Broadway performances of the musical ‘Chicago,’ brokered by mutual friend Jeff Tamelier, led to a 2006 performance where Chuck got added to the horn section on a Lake Tahoe gig with Huey Lewis & The News. While Johnnie Bamont is Huey’s long-time bari player in The News, Chuck’s string of appearances with Huey at the AT&T Pro Am Band and parties at Clint Eastwood’s Tehama Golf Club led to recording ‘Your Mama Don’t Dance’ for charity.

“If it wasn’t for COVID, I’m not sure we would have released this tune,” states Hansen. “But, Huey’s & Jeff’s encouragement & addition of Lifehouse as our charity, motivated me to lay down a version of Jon Clarke’s bari solo from the original tune. I hope you like our mix.” Elvis Presley sang a few lines from ‘Your Mama...’ as part of a medley in 1974 for his album Recorded Live On Stage In Memphis. But not since Poison covered the tune in 1989 (#10 in the U.S.) has a major artist covered this song.

About Chuck Hansen

An environmental entrepreneur, private equity social impact investor, Hansen founded Hansen Software Inc. (1983-2007) and sold to Golden Gate Capital & IN-FOR. Today, Chuck serves on the Investment Board of Folsom, Calif- based Moneta Ventures.

Hansen is also Founder & CEO of Hansen Analytics, LLC, an environmental data mining decision support company.

In 2011 Hansen founded Electro Scan Inc. to provide next generation machine-intelligent pipeline leak detection solutions for global water utilities. Hansen also likes to back important & often disruptive social & environmental technologies that cause transformative change to the water business.

Chuck received his BS, University of California, Berkeley & MBA, UCLA, and currently enrolled in Stanford University's Innovation & Entrepreneurship Program.

Hansen lives in Northern California with his wife, and four children. In his spare time, Hansen plays sax for various artists & bands, is a studio musician at The Track Shack Studios, was featured on Tower of Power's last two CDs (released 2018 & 2020), and is an instrument-rated pilot.

In addition to his studio work, in his spared time Chuck runs Electro Scan Inc., a leading developer of machine-intelligent leak detection solutions for water utilities.
