Introduction:

This award winning teaching pack has been developed to be taught to learning disabled children and young people between the ages of 9-18 years old. It is acknowledged however that depending on the age and the cognitive ability this may vary. It has been designed to include the needs of children and young people with severe learning disability to deliver extensive knowledge appropriate to this group but equally comparable to their mainstream peers. The pack is based on information from a variety of sources and supporting evidence. It uses an array of visual and tactile resources to enable children to maximise their learning including dance and movement, anatomically correct dolls, role play and experiential learning.

It can be used with both individuals and groups of children and is effective in school, residential and home environments.

Children's Learning Disability Nursing Team (Leeds) 2009

Acknowledgements:

Over the past eight years the Children's Learning Disability Nursing Team in Leeds has been working to develop this pack. We would like to say a big thank you to the people who have been involved in its production:

The Department of Health for funding and supporting this edition of the pack, The Nursing Times for helping us to push the sexual health agenda forward, Owen Brigstock-Barron (NHS Leeds), Liz Wilson and Matt Harrison (Centre for HIV & Sexual Health).

Also Sukhvinder Sond (Design for Health - Leeds) for her hard work and never ending patience with the first edition of the pack and to Lynne Helliwell and her team at the Public Health Resource Centre in Leeds for their continued support. Thanks also to family, friends and colleagues who have offered support and input into this project.

Contributors to the pack over the years include:

Nicci Isaac, Diane Browne, Stacey Atkinson, Beryl Sanderson, Stephen Simpson, Julie Sutton, Jill Cavasi and Cherie Marriott.

We wish to acknowledge that some of the exercises in this resource have been adapted from original ideas developed by fpa

This work was undertaken by NHS Leeds who received funding from the Department of Health; the views expressed in this publication are those of the authors and not necessarily those of the Department of Health.

Guidelines:

- Consider the layout of the physical environment e.g. arranging chairs in a circle without any tables works well to foster an informal atmosphere.
- Ensure the staff sit with children within the circle, interspersed between them to include them as part of the group.
- It is important to ensure a good mix of both male and female facilitators. This is particularly needed in sessions 7 and 8. Extra facilitators are also needed in session 3.
- Please ensure other staff or children do not interrupt the sessions so that the right to privacy is respected.
- There will be 'homework' at the end of each session. Parents/carers are to be encouraged to find opportunities for repetition and reinforcement of the learning.
- Build up a folder for each student to keep their work in (including homework).
- It is good practice to begin each session with a recap on the previous sessions' learning.
- When using teaching aids such as anatomically correct dolls give them a name e.g. Sally/Sam. Use phrases such as 'what is Sally/Sam wearing?' This avoids any potentially embarrassing references to the body parts of group members and is known as a 'distancing' technique.
- Please note that although the work focuses on heterosexuality ensure consideration is given to other sexual preferences such as gay or lesbian. Diversity should exist in the group, so consider referring onto relevant support agencies. Awareness of cultural differences in relation to sexuality will also need addressing.
- Any myths or stereotypes in relation to children with a learning disability may need exploring and addressing. This can be a preconception that they are over sexualised or fall into the "victim" file.
- In order to reinforce the message of appropriate touch, please ensure children have the opportunity to practice appropriate greetings at the beginning of each session.

Guidelines:

- Many of the resources suggested in this pack may be available at your local public health resource centre or order direct from supplies. You may need to adapt your sessions dependent what is available to you.
- This resource is intended for any staff to deliver and is not exclusive.
- Feel free to bring other resources to the sessions which may be useful. 'Jason and Kylie' videos (Life Support Productions 2001) may be beneficial to use for further sessions to extend student's learning.
- It is advisable to plan in 30 minutes preparation at the start of sessions and evaluation time at the end.
- Parents of young people who are offered the course, need informing according to the school's policy and procedures.
- Session one involves developing group rules to follow throughout the course.
- It is beneficial to intermittently remind students of these rules on subsequent sessions, by revisiting the original list.
- Please feel free to photocopy all of the worksheets provided.
- Student feedback forms need to be completed following each session and are available at the end of every section.

Good Luck!

session |

aim:

To develop knowledge of self

To develop the idea of group membership

session

Content:

- Opening song - Play first few verses of "Let's Talk About Sex" by Salt 'n' Pepa, CD. Develop simple hand actions to match lyrics of chorus- to be repeated at the start of each session to cue the students into the topic. Helps to start a routine/ritual familiar to all. *This will be played at the start and end of each session.
- Practice safe/appropriate touch/greeting, handshake or knee tap at start of each session.
- Whole course outline
 - Homework outline
 - To talk about ourselves and how we change when growing up
 - The course will be delivered over 10 to 12 weeks
 - The room/s to be used
 - Who will facilitate and when
- Repeat song and teach the actions
- Introductions and ice breaker activity - work round the group using a beanbag (consider using more sensory objects such as slime, balloon filled with lentils or bowls of water). Each person to say their name, age, who they live with, are they a boy or a girl. This helps to create the pupil's awareness of self and others and to develop turn taking.
- Consider body dancing: someone dances using/emphasising a part of their body and the group copies (use mirrors to enhance awareness of movement.)

Facilitators to shout: "All the girls come here! All the boys come here!," and form two separate groups to begin establishing gender identity.

Homework:

Aim-To build self-esteem.

Parents/carers to discuss with students what's nice about them

To look in the mirror & notice themselves.

To discuss hair, eye colour.

Bring photos for next week's session of children as babies, toddlers, primary school and current.

"4 you: growing up-what's it all about?" and "All change" - Girls and Boys leaflets (send some for parents/carers to read through).

Begin to develop a folder for each student.

- Group rules - (To discuss as a group)

Need to include -

- Listening
- Trying to take part
- Don't repeat what you've heard in the group outside this room
- Staff may need to talk to other people if they are worried you are being hurt, or someone is doing something wrong to you.

- Who am I? (to encourage children to look at themselves specifically)

All to do, facilitators to help where needed. Need mirrors, paper, pencils and envelope folder with name on for each member.

- Each student to draw picture of themselves from looking in the mirror. If unable, get someone else to draw them.
- Work round the group by each child holding up their picture.
- Saying their name.
- Naming one thing they like about themselves.
- Say one thing they like doing.
- Say one thing they don't like doing.
- Facilitators to ask group about each individual child.
 - Who is this
 - Hair length
 - Eye and hair colour
 - Boy or girl
 - Age

- Feedback form completion

session 4

aim:

To complete initial evaluation of group, to discuss baseline assessments and identify future planning needs.

session

4

Facilitators only:

- Discuss mix of group and need for any changes in the seating plan.
- Discuss disclosures or child protection concerns if any.
- Discuss any children choosing or not able to take part.

Resources:

- ☐ Completed baseline assessment forms from previous week
- ☐ Private room and no children present

session 5

aim:

To explore the concept of attractiveness
and to develop knowledge of parts of the body.
To help build self esteem.

session

Content:

- Opening song and greetings

- Attractiveness

All to sit round table and look at magazine images, a selection of fabrics, textures, smells and voice recordings.

Encourage each child to select images, materials they like or find attractive.

Talk about why they like these and create individual collages. Be open to a child expressing sexual preferences other than heterosexuality

- Naming body parts

Using the body board, anatomically correct dolls or outlines of two facilitators drawn on large sheet of paper with body parts marked on:

Ask the group to name the body parts.

On a flip chart/paper head 5 columns with breasts, penis, bottom, vagina and testicles.

Get group to call out all the names (slang or otherwise) they know for these parts and write them down in the appropriate column.

Agree and encourage use of correct terminology throughout the course.

Show the Growing and Changing pictures (OHP/Powerpoint) to the group.

Facilitators to go through both sets naming parts that are changing as child grows up. Ask group to guess the ages.

- Feedback form completion

- Goodbye song

Resources:

- ☐ Tape/CD player
- ☐ Let's Talk About Sex, Salt 'n' Pepa tape/CD
- ☐ Magazines showing a variety of different people
- ☐ Different fabrics/textures
- ☐ Different types of smells-perfumes etc.
- ☐ Tape/CD recordings of different, unfamiliar voices, depicting a range of tones and pitches such as 'husky', deep or high
- ☐ Scissors
- ☐ Glue
- ☐ Paper
- ☐ Flipchart and flipchart paper
- ☐ Body board if available
- ☐ Anatomically correct dolls
- ☐ OHP/Powerpoint
- ☐ Growing and Changing Pictures (see resources 5)

Communication

RESOURCES:

Signs & symbols for body parts (see resources 5)

Homework:

Encourage child to look at self in mirror and to touch and name different body parts

Encourage child to feel the arms, legs, faces of others (if permission given)

If the child needs intimate care encourage naming their body parts using correct terminology

*Ideas for follow up sessions

- Massage of public body parts to increase body awareness.
- Face painting/henna tattoos making use of mirrors and touch.
- 'Pamper' sessions to help build self esteem.

Note to facilitators

Aim to give lots of positive comments on the child's appearance and achievements. (Facilitators to include in home school communication book.)

Session 6

aim:

To explore the concept of public and private places and exposing body parts

session

Content:

- Opening song and greetings
- Create a private space behind a screen/up-end a table
- Facilitator to stand behind private space and ask if the students can see you
- Show pictures and photos of public and private pictures-explain which is public/private and why

Take it in turns to select a piece of clothing and decide whether we need to be public or private to try these on. *(Do not try on underwear and swimwear; these will be discussed at the end of the session).

Discuss who may wear the item of clothing and where it goes on the body

Encourage children to appropriately try on clothes and look in mirror or take them behind the screen if they prefer

Discuss where it is appropriate to both try on and wear underwear and swimwear

Note: Remember 'Private' is with the door shut.

Although swimming baths and sports centres are public places their changing rooms/cubicles are private.

Session 7

aim:

To explore the concept of growing up, body changes and personal hygiene.

session

Content:

- Opening song and greetings
- Split into gender groups.
Girls to explore female resources, trying out perfume, moisturisers and make-up-encourage looking in mirror.
Boys to observe a male facilitator modelling shaving and discuss use of toiletries. Refer to shaving information card.
- Put up Billy grows up and Julie grows up acetates on OHP/Powerpoint and discuss as a group:
 - The physical changes to Billy and Julie's bodies e.g. hair growth, sweat, change of voice, menstruation and development of breasts.
 - The importance of personal hygiene and keeping clean.
 - What toiletries Billy and Julie could use.
- Show acetates of Growing and Changing.
 - Get whole group to point out body changes.
 - Identify parts of the body that need personal hygiene.
- Re-look at toiletries and discuss which parts of the body we use them on and how often?
- Feedback form completion

resources

Billy grows up

- When in the bath/shower Billy notices some hair on his body.
- Discuss that this is called pubic hair and is part of growing up

- Billy's mum tells him hair will grow under his arms as he grows up.
- Ask the group if they know anyone like this?

- Billy's mum explains that when hairs grow you begin to sweat.
- Ask the group whether sweating is good and what they can do e.g. use a deodorant

Billy grows up

- Billy's dad is having a shave: Explain what this is and what you need (wet/dry shave)
- Explain one day every boy needs to shave if they don't want a beard

- Billy's dad shows him an electric razor.
- Explain this and why it is safer to use

- Billy listens to music and as he sings his voice goes high and low
- Explain how this is a sign of growing up and Billy's voice will be deeper

Billy grows up

- What is happening to Billy?
- Why are his trousers too short?

- What parts of Billy's body will grow?
- Where will Billy wash?

- Is it good to grow up?
- Will Billy be a man soon?

Julie grows up

- Julie looks in the mirror. She sees she is starting to grow up.
- Ask if any of the children are growing up.

- One day Julie notices her chest is growing
- Discuss how breasts will develop

- Julie goes to get a bra
- Discuss this (the right size?)

Julie grows up

- Discuss how getting a bra is another sign of growing up

- Julie notices some hairs under her arms and between her legs
- Discuss this is a sign of growing up and they need to keep clean

- Discuss how Julie's mum tells her about one day there will be blood on her pants. It will come out of her vagina for a few days every month. It is called a period

Julie grows up

- Explain how pads fit into pants/knickers

- Explain how having a period is nothing to worry about

- Julie feels good about growing up

Session 8

aim:

To explore the concept of menstruation and wet dreams and to provide support to develop skills of independence

session

8

Content:

- Opening song and greetings
- Menstruation-mixed sex groups.

For whole group show pictures of Claire's story.

Ask the prompting questions:

Have a selection of sanitary towels, tampons and pant liners to hand round the whole group.

Give explicit instructions - regarding pad changing and hand washing using anatomically correct dolls if necessary.

Explain to any girls who wear continence products how managing menstruation will be different for them.

Watch "Kylie" video - forward wind to clips relating menstruation, first period, PMT and tampon use.

- Wet Dreams-Mixed sex groups

For whole group show pictures of wet dreams and then Mike's story. Emphasize the naturalness of wet dreams.

Work round whole group asking prompting questions:

Communication

RESOURCES:

Symbol-Menstruation & ejaculation (see resources 8)

Objects of reference-sanitary products. (menstruation). Box of tissues (wet dreams)

Homework:

GIRLS • Give out "Periods: what you need to know" leaflets and encourage parents/carers to implement guidelines.

Encourage parents and carers to go shopping with girls to purchase sanitary towels. To include them in a personalised bag would be appropriate.

Consider why there may be times when tampons would be useful i.e. swimming.

Advise parents and carers to give consideration to girls who wear continence products but have intimate care needs, and help to make them aware that their periods are happening.

BOYS • Prepare boys to manage their wet dreams, and explain this is natural.

- Wet Dreams-Scenario.

Lie anatomically correct male figure on model wooden bed with sheet on top. Insert water filled syringe underneath bed and between slats to depict an erect penis. Emphasize that the boy is asleep. Inject the syringe vertically to depict ejaculation. Demonstrate the use of bedside tissues to clean up.

- Single sex-female group.

Female staff to take all girls and do private practice session of changing pad and washing hands. Staff to place knickers over trousers and demonstrate how and when to change sanitary towels stained with varying amounts of fake blood. All girls to practice in same way. Show where toilets are and where to dispose of pads. Talk about where you can buy them and how much they cost.

- Single sex-male group.

Go over wet dreams again.

- Feedback form completion

- Goodbye song

Session 10

aim:

To explore the understanding of consent and assertiveness and to practice saying 'no' effectively.

session

Content:

- Opening song and greetings
- Facilitators to perform 4 separate role plays. These will all begin with person A coming to sit too closely to person B, but will demonstrate 4 different responses from Person B.
- Response one
Person B displays an unhappy facial expression.
Question the class - do you think she/he is happy?
- Response two
Person B ineffectively tries to say no, by gently shrugging off Person A and looking away. Involve the group to come up with ways of saying no effectively.
- Response three
Person B effectively tries to say no, demonstrating the use of Rules of Saying No (display picture). Individuals and group to practice saying no.
- Response four
Person B gives mixed messages to Person A by half smiling as they push them away. Discuss with the group the difficulties this may bring.
- Show Keeping safe and Consent situations pictures.
Work around group and talk about experiences when children have had to say no.
- Positive role play scene to give consent - Person B to look happy about Person A sitting too close to them.
- Feedback form completion
- Goodbye song

- ☐ Tim and Lucy pictures (see resources 11).

Communication

RESOURCES:

Signs & Symbols

(see resources 11)

Homework:

Parents/Carers to go through "How to use a condom" leaflet with young person.

Explain that:

- Both people must consent
 - The law says both people need to be over 16
 - People usually remove all or some of their clothing before having sex
 - They may like to kiss and touch each other
 - The man's penis becomes hard and bigger and the woman's vagina becomes wet
 - They both like it and it doesn't hurt either of them. (If it does hurt you need to speak to someone you trust).
 - Both the man and woman can ejaculate. They may feel very satisfied and 'nice'.

Watch Jason video. Note that Jason always asks Kylie about sex, and explain this is not always the case. Video shows Jason ejaculating but does not mention Kylie having an orgasm. Same sex relationships are also discussed in this clip.

- Feedback form completion
- Goodbye song
