DOUBLE MASTER IN PUBLIC POLICY AND EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

The LKYSPP-Sciences Po double master degree programme is offered by the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at NUS, and the Sciences Po, School of Public Affairs. This self-funded, full-time, two-year programme will be a rewarding experience for students of both universities.

In their second year, they will be exposed to public policy concepts and frameworks taught through a distinctly Asian context in Singapore.

Classroom Profile

The cohort comprises 15-20 students. Get the best of both worlds with LKYSPP and Sciences Po School of Public Affairs, with our Double Masters Degree in Public Policy and European Affairs (MPP-MEA).

In addition to providing special curricular features and educational outcomes, the proposed programme will offer a unique framework for the development of specific professional skills focused on European and Asian markets. Specifically, students in their first year at Sciences Po will be able to develop professional skills specific to the European labour market through dedicated activities and fairs organised by Sciences Po's Career Services. In their second year, they will be able to assess the opportunities and services — including internships — available through Career Services at LKYSPP. They would thus graduate with specific professional skills and knowledge of the respective labour markets in Europe and Asia.

Internships

Students of this programme would need to complete an internship during the summer break between the first year and the second year. Students are encouraged to pursue internships in the public, private or non-profit sector. We actively engage leading think-tanks, consulting firms, multilateral institutions and non-profit organisations to facilitate internships. Internship opportunities are posted regularly throughout the year on the schools' websites.
