

The Tesla BioHealing[®] Story

Tesla BioHealing[®] is at the forefront of the bioenergetic medicine and technology movement. Building on the innovations of Nikola Tesla, we focus on developing previously untapped natural life-giving solutions. Tesla BioHealing[®] medical devices safely and effectively generate a concentrated field of natural vital Life Force Energy.

Our devices include:

Tesla BioHealing[®] MedBed Generator[™]

Tesla BioHealer[™]

and the

Tesla BioHealer[™]
for Pets

Our products are over-the-counter (OTC), Food and Drug Administration (FDA)-registered medical devices, and a breakthrough in modern medical technology.

Tesla BioHealing[®] OTC medical devices support cellular rejuvenation, and empower people to self-heal. Each device recharges and repairs cellular health by supporting body cells with a concentrated field of pure Life Force Energy. This healing process plays out in what many users have described as miraculous recoveries: regained movement in paralyzed limbs, increased cognitive function, reduced chronic pain, improved quality of life, etc. (Read customer testimonials of incredible recoveries achieved using Tesla BioHealing[®] medical devices on our website or by clicking here.)

The Known Health Benefits of

Life Force Energy

Life Force Energy has been proven to recharge and jumpstart cellular self-repair, which translates into benefits at the molecular, subcellular, cellular, organ, and whole-body level.^{1,2,4} Life Force Energy supports this restorative action by: ^{2,4}

- Increasing overall energy
- Reducing inflammation throughout the body
- Promoting circulation
- Reducing chronic severe pain
- Improving mental clarity
- Improving immune function by as much as 149%
- Detoxifying the body
- And More!

The Science Behind the Healing

In 1899, Nikola Tesla was the first to demonstrate Life Force Energy, also known as “Tesla Waves,” scalar waves, zero-point energy, and longitudinal waves.¹⁻⁴ In doing so, he proved the existence of the essential vital force of nature believed to be the healing energy of all life—which ancient civilizations referred to as Chi, Ki, Prana, etc.

Tesla’s technology harnessed this energy and created healing fields. Life Force Energy has been described as “standing waves” because they tend to fill space, creating a sphere of energy around a point of concentration.^{2,4} This natural wave energy has the ability to increase the energy potential of any cell in the body.^{4,5} Ideally, body cells should be charged within the 70 to 90 millivolt range.⁴ When cells are optimally energized, a repair process can activate throughout the body.

The importance of optimizing energy levels to achieve improved health can be exemplified by looking at cancer cells, which are typically low-energy cells. Cancer cells usually register at about 15 millivolts.⁴ Scientific reports show, Life Force Energy can increase the energy level of cancer cells to the ideal 70 to 90 millivolt range, an energy level that is believed to both prevent the spread of cancer and promote the healing of cancer.⁴

Mechanism of Action of Tesla BioHealing® Medical Devices

Tesla BioHealing® medical devices generate a field of pure Life Force Energy that empowers and restores bodily function at both local and systemic intracellular levels. Our devices achieve this by providing a concentrated environment of natural energy that cells can use as needed. This non-invasive approach to healing relies on the body's own innate organizing intelligence and has been helping those who previously had no available effective therapies.

Benefits those debilitated by countless conditions, including, but not limited to:

Dementia & Alzheimer's disease, severe COPD, stroke-paralysis, diabetes with neuropathy, terminal cancers, and rare diseases.

Many benefits reported for humans have also been noted for animals.

TESLA BIOHEALING®

Stroke-Paralysis:

Users with stroke-paralysis reported rapid improvement in motor control and function in previously paralyzed limbs.

Chronic Pain:

Users with chronic pain reported drastic reductions in pain levels and, consequently, improved sleep quality and mobility.

Real World Evidence

Diabetes with Neuropathy:

Diabetic users with neuropathy reported normalized blood glucose readings in as little as 2 hours of use, reduced pain, and increased function in their affected limbs.

Terminal Cancers:

Users with terminal cancers reported increased energy levels and a dramatic improvement in quality of life.

Dementia/ Alzheimer's:

Users with dementia or Alzheimer's disease reported notable increases in mental clarity, cognitive function, and general optimism.

At-Home Use Test Program

Over the last 3 years, we have conducted extensive safety and efficacy studies including an At-Home Use Test Program with our technology involving more than 1,000 participants, most of whom had suffered with crippling conditions for years with no available effective therapy. Yet, when they utilized our medical devices, their life quality was significantly improved. To date over 10,000 people have utilized Tesla BioHealing® technology, with no clinically noticeable side effects and with remarkable healing taking place.

Sleep Studies

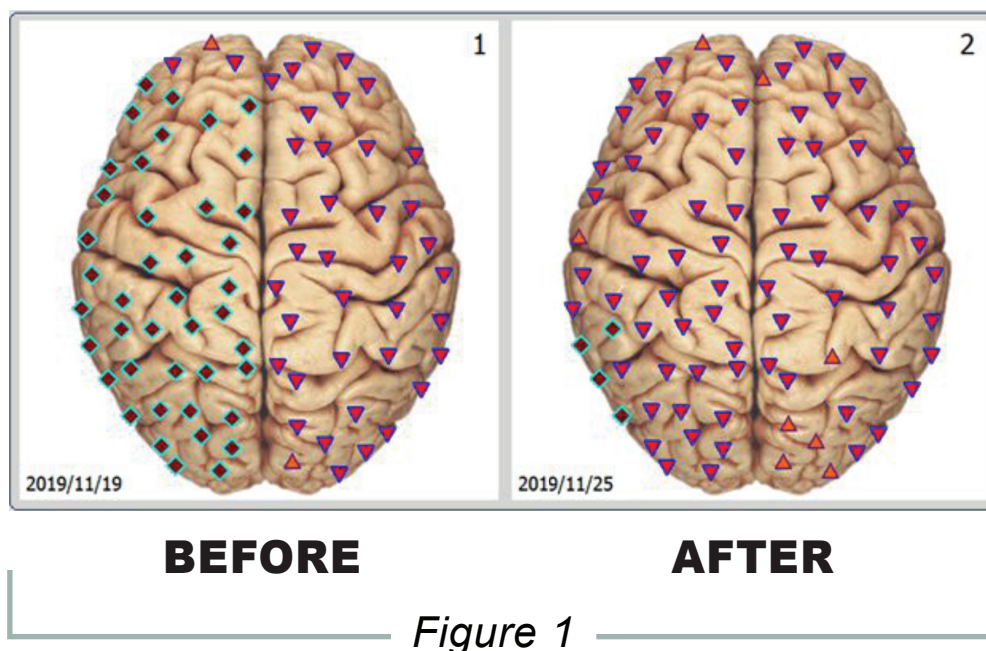

We also conducted individual sleep studies in which participants used the Tesla BioHealing® MedBed Generators™ for multiple consecutive nights.

Figures 1 and 2 are Non-Linear Analysis Scans depicting the rapid cellular repair seen in two sleep study participants Participant 1 of the sleep study is a 54-year-old female who was suffering from stroke paralysis for 18 months at the time of the study (November 2019).

Non-Linear Analysis Scans of participant with stroke paralysis: BEFORE and AFTER 6 night's use of the Tesla BioHealing® MedBed Generators™

Following only 6 consecutive nights' use of the Tesla BioHealing® MedBed Generators™, Participant 1 regained the ability to walk and eat by herself. She experienced a 33% increase in cellular repair rate in the stroke-affected side of her brain. This improvement is indicated in Figure 1 by the emergence of lighter, purple-colored triangles on the left side of the brain shown on the AFTER compared to the BEFORE image. In the AFTER image, the ability of the cells to self-repair from the stroke damage after only 6 nights using the Tesla BioHealing® MedBed Generators™ is evident as the left hemisphere now resembles the right hemisphere, which was unaffected by the stroke. The study participant did not report any side effects.

the scan of the heart of Participant 2 (Figure 2). The cellular repair is evident in the absence of the damaged cells (dark-colored symbols) and the emergence of more healthy high-energy cells (light-colored purple and yellow symbols) in the AFTER image. In addition, the participant's cellular destruction rate decreased by 100%. He did not report any side effects.

The Tesla BioHealer™ is available in formats charged with specific energy quotients tailored to adults, children, pets, and travel. These devices should be placed within 3 feet of the user's body, with the Life Force Energy concentration strongest the closer the device is placed to body.

MedBed Generator™ offers more than 100x the strength of the Tesla BioHealer™ devices and was created to address the most serious health conditions in the shortest amount of time. Place underneath the user's bed frame or treatment table, in order to create a highly therapeutic Tesla MedBed®.

Tesla BioHealing® medical devices include the Tesla BioHealer™ and the MedBed Generator™. Each is an FDA-registered Class II OTC medical device.
