

DECLARATIONS FOR MY DEVOTIONAL JOURNEY

- My devotional journey is a joyous adventure with the Holy Spirit.
- I can draw near to the Lord whenever I wish, because Jesus has made the way.
- I stand under a waterfall of forgiveness and grace, therefore shame and guilt never keep me away.
- The Spirit lives in me to cause me to ‘will and to do’ what is right in my relationship with God.
- He causes a strong desire for intimacy to well up from within, and makes me hungry for His presence.
- When I read, pray or worship, I expect to have a special encounter with the Lord; I expect beautiful intimacy, revelation and understanding, and answers to my prayers.
- The Spirit wants to overflow from my innermost being with ‘rivers of living water’—in my own unique way.
- The Holy Spirit in me overflows with love and passion towards the Father and the Son.
- He is the Spirit of Worship; He causes celebration to pour out of me.
- I am a worshipper—it’s who I am created to be. Rivers of worship well up from the depths of my being.
- He is the Spirit of Revelation; He continually shares His amazing insights with me.
- I am hungry to read and hear the Word of God for it feeds my faith. I love to learn more and more about my wonderful Lord.
- He is the Spirit of Prayer: He always knows exactly how to pray, and causes all sorts of prayer to well up in me.
- I love to pray and partner with God in bringing in His Kingdom. Because I pray according to His will, I expect my prayers to be answered.
- He is the Spirit of Freedom and causes me to walk with Him in wonderful liberty.
