The story of clay begins with the earth.

Our ranges for Winter 2025 are crafted with affection, reflective design, and a nod to our past. They are a celebration of the joy and the tactile experience of clay. These ranges are not just utilitarian objects but expressions of sustainability and craftsmanship, meant to be used and cherished daily. In a world where mass production often prioritises efficiency over artistry, our pottery ranges stand out for their commitment to traditional techniques and sustainable materials. Each piece is crafted with care, emphasising the unique qualities of clay and its connection to the earth. Using a ceramic range becomes a ritual, a moment to appreciate the simplicity and beauty of handmade objects in our daily lives. Beyond their functionality, these ranges serve as reminders of the importance of mindful consumption and the value of craftsmanship.

OUR HISTORY

Our family have been immersed in the world of pottery for 80 years. Creating with clay since 1945, we are a family business fired by passion, knowledge, and imagination. We craft pottery with a uniquely Australian spirit to be loved and enjoyed for years to come.

The Pack Track Pottery circa 1980's.

Slip casting guru Tony in our Pakenham workshop.

In 1945, June Dyson began her pottery with husband Colin Gordon. Called Dyson Studios, the pottery was set up in the bayside suburb of Black Rock, Victoria. June was somewhat of a renegade in the industry. She came from a hugely creative family and was encouraged to pursue the arts from a very early age. It took tenacity and drive to run a pottery that provided for her family, Colin and June managed this until they both retired in the late 1980's. June and Colin went on to provide for six children.

The year 1978 saw their youngest son, Robert 'Andy' Gordon break away from the family pottery business and begin his own dream with his English wife Barbara. They set up a small pottery in a tin shed on the property in Gembrook and called it the Pack Track Pottery. By the 1980's, The Pack Track was Gembrook's largest local employer, selling wares all over the country.

It had finally outgrown its space and the pottery was moved from the small township to a large purpose built headquarters in Pakenham. By the 1990's the pottery had developed into a large production pottery, employing over 35 staff. From supplying wares to Sunday tourists at the St Kilda markets, to providing some of the world's most reputable retailers and restaurants with quality ceramics, those early years spent as a studio pottery means we still place enormous importance on the craft.

In the late 1990's, Barbara and Andy's children Hannah, Kate and Sam joined the pottery. Ten years later, eldest son Bobby came on board. In order to keep up with the times and demand, Robert Gordon not only became a manufacturer of bespoke Australian Made pottery, but an importer too, designs dreamed up at our Pakenham HQ are sent off-shore to be made into the collections we are so proud of.

Winter days call for comfort and care. Our new collections are made to slow you down, invite you in and celebrate the beauty of clay.

Australian Made Collections

Robert Gordon is the largest production pottery in Australia. The Pakenham workshop produces up to 300, 000+ pieces of high fired stoneware each year. As a production pottery, we utilise machinery and mouldings to make each piece. The equipment at the workshop is a mix of traditional and modern tools. New prototypes are first developed on the throwers wheel or slab roller. Once approved, shapes are then included in the production schedule and created using methods such as casting or pressing. Its a carefully considered process.

MADE IN AUSTRALIA

Our commitment to sustainable design.

Each shape in our collections is handmade in our Melbourne workshop using local clay mined in Bendigo, Victoria.

Selected shapes like our organic mug are made from recycled scrap clay which we process into slip.

Our Australian Made pieces are fired in solar assisted electric kilns and packaged in biodegradable, compostable materials and reusable calico bags.

Rainwater is harvested and used throughout our production process - from mixing clay, to sponging and trimming, to cleaning workstations at the end of the day.
