WHY POST-OP LYMPHATIC DRAINAGE IS CRUCIAL FOR RECOVERY

Whether you've had Liposuction, BBL, Tummy Tuck, or any Cosmetic/Medical surgery, lymphatic drainage is one of the most important steps in your recovery.

After surgery, your body goes through major inflammation - and without guided lymphatic support, complications can develop. Two of the biggest ones are:

FIBROTIC TISSUE

Fibrosis happens when excess scar tissue forms under the skin.

It can make the area feel hard, lumpy, uneven, and can distort your surgical results. Early lymphatic drainage helps break down these adhesions before they become permanent.

SEROMAS

A seroma is a pocket of trapped fluid that forms under the skin.

They can cause swelling, pain, and delayed healing - and in some cases may require drainage by a doctor. Lymphatic massage reduces fluid buildup and helps your body clear it naturally.

Your results don't stop in the operating room - your aftercare is EVERYTHING.

Prioritise your recovery, protect your investment, and give your body the support it needs to heal beautifully.
