

PROFHILO SKIN REMODELLER

Profhilo is a hyaluronic acid based skin remodeller, with the highest concentration of hyaluronic acid on the market.

Profhilo approaches hyaluronic acid therapy with a bio-remodelling concept. It utilizes high concentrations of HA to stimulate the production of collagen and elastin in the skin. This innovative approach not only offers exceptional hydration and wrinkle reduction, but overall skin remodelling resulting in improved texture, elasticity and firmness.

VITARAN SKIN REVITALISER

Vitaran is a polynucleotide based skin revitaliser. Polynucleotides are categorised as a regenerative treatment with the purpose of revitalising and repair the skin on a deeper level.

Polynucleotides are renowned for their wound healing and bio stimulating properties. They are designed to stimulate fibroblasts, promote tissue repair, enhance cell turnover, stimulate collagen production and enhance skin elasticity.

Additionally they possess the ability to soothe inflammation and restore the balance of melanocytes (skin pigment), resulting in a more even and refreshed skin tone.

SUNEKOS

Sunekos is an FDA-approved injectable skin booster that targets your skin's extracellular matrix (ECM), a complex network that supports and nourishes your skin cells. When the ECM is healthy, your skin looks and feels vibrant and youthful.

Sunekos provides the essential components to help your skin rebuild this network. By combining hyaluronic acid to hydrate the skin, and a special blend of amino acids, Sunekos helps your skin 'remember' how to make these vital proteins again, leading to a more natural and long-lasting rejuvenation.

Unlike some other injectable treatments that may rely on inflammation to stimulate collagen production, Sunekos works with the body's natural processes. The hyaluronic acid in Sunekos interacts with specific receptors to trigger cell signalling, while the amino acids act as building blocks for collagen, elastin, and even fibronectin. This carefully balanced combination stimulates a gradual and controlled regeneration process, avoiding the potential for inflammation-related damage.

SUNEKOS PERFORMA

Think of Sunekos Performa as a gentle touch-up. It's perfect for those just starting to notice the subtle signs of aging, like fine lines around the eyes or a slight loss of elasticity in the skin. Sunekos Performa provides a gentle nudge that encourages your skin to produce more collagen and elastin for a subtle, refreshed look.

PRICING:

3.5ML	£155
7.0ML	£235
10.5ML	£315

Only Sunekos Performa is suitable for Under Eye

SUNEKOS 1200

Sunekos 1200, on the other hand, is more like a targeted intervention for more advanced concerns. If you're dealing with deeper wrinkles, sagging skin, or areas that have lost significant volume, 1200 is the way to go. It provides a more substantial lift and support, helping to restore a more youthful contour.
