

Call for Art in Wallace Library

Group study rooms 3570 and 3695 are heavily used and in a highly visible location on the third floor of Wallace Library. RIT Libraries would like to add color and artistic interest to enliven these study rooms and inspire the RIT community when they work in these rooms. RIT students are invited to submit mock-ups of their artistic ideas for painting a designated wall in one or both of these study rooms. (See photos and dimensions on pages 2-5.)

Details

- RIT Libraries will pay the selected artist(s) $200 per designated wall and cover up to $150 of supplies per wall (paint, drop cloths, brushes, etc.).
- The selected artist(s) will be notified by the end of November and will need to complete the painting between December 17, 2019 and January 24, 2020. Access to the rooms will be provided during regular building hours: <http://library.rit.edu/libhours>

Competition Rules

1. These rooms are used by many people, so the art must be pleasant, inoffensive, and of high quality. We ask that no religious or political designs be submitted.
2. Submitted designs must not have any imagery or text representing any club, organization, or Greek Life affiliation.
3. Any current RIT student may submit proposals for either study room — or both rooms!
4. Submissions will be evaluated by RIT Libraries staff, who reserve the right to not select a winning proposal.

How to Submit Your Idea

1. Use the provided dimensions on pages 2-5 to illustrate your idea to scale.
2. Submit your artwork along with your name, major, and year to snmtwc@rit.edu by October 27, 2019.

The whiteboard contains handwritten notes and diagrams. On the left, there is a small diagram of a metabolic pathway. On the right, there is a larger, more detailed diagram of a metabolic pathway, likely the urea cycle, showing the conversion of ammonia to urea. The diagram includes various chemical structures and names of enzymes and cofactors.
