From The Trainer

Anish Singh Thakur

succeed at it, one needs a never-ending Graduation & then applying for your learning attitude, patience and the ability to PhD. The process seems guite simple, work efficiently under high pressure. On the but it can be pretty complicated if you do other hand, it offers time as well as financial the same thing in the reverse direction or freedom if it is done correctly with in no specific direction at all. Like discipline & a trading system. I have seen learning class 5th, then 1st, then 12th, lots of ups & down & I can answer your then Post Graduation. Every new step question about whether the stock will make some sense to you as you are market/forex/crypto market is gambling or keenly interested, but in the end, it will be not? Can money be made through trading a big confusion. This happens to most of or not?

The answer is YES; you need to have a system that tells you what to do next. If you google Trading system, you will get a lot of general details that will not lead you anywhere. I have compiled 4 + years of my experience into 1.5 Months of theory training & 1.5 months of practical trading. I have deduced that there are 4 Quadrants of practical trading, namely - the Technical Quadrant - Money Management -Psychology Quadrant - Life Management. All of these are very important for trading as it is a practical subject.

Knowing Technical Analysis can help you trade in all the markets that you can open in a chart. It is a process just like being a doctor, an engineer, or a designer & studying from Class 1 to Class 12th & then Trading is a serious business; to doing Graduation & then Post us in our trading careers. We always learn something like candlestick patterns, then meet a new trainer with a new price action theory, then watch some Youtube videos on RSI & apply super trends on a daily chart while doing Intraday. Amidst this chaos, we make money sometimes, but mostly we do not.

> A lot of traders lose a lot of money, sometimes in thousands, sometimes in lakhs & later understand the value of education. This is a practical skill that I can teach you using my 12+ years of training background. So, are you ready to get on board with me and crack the code of trading with a well-researched and experience-oriented curriculum?
