

PARSHAS PINCHAS

Listen To The Song:

B'chol Dor V'dor - 12 Pesukim (Part 1)
Feat. Joey Newcomb

Listen To The Song:

Ahavas Yisroel
Yossi Green & Mendy Worch

Wake up grateful and watch the whole day

Change Colors

This week, I want to take a little detour from the parshah.

The Three Weeks just began, and I have to tell you something.

This is probably the hardest time of the whole year for me.

I'm someone who cries pretty easily. If I meet someone who's hurting, I can usually feel their pain. But when the Three Weeks begin and I remember all the terrible things that happened to the Jewish people—especially that this was the day the walls around Yerushalayim were broken before the Beis Hamikdash was destroyed—I sometimes don't feel as sad as I think I should.

Then I feel bad... because I wish I felt it more.

If you've ever felt that way too, you're not the only one. I feel the same way.

So maybe instead of trying to force ourselves to feel sad about something that happened so long ago, we can start by noticing the pain of another Yid. Maybe another kid your age who's going through something really hard. Don't force yourself to cry. Just let yourself see someone else's pain.

Maybe that's one small way to connect to the pain of the Jewish people, the pain of Hashem, and the fact that our world still isn't complete.

And I hope with all my heart that by the time we get to Tisha B'Av this year, we'll be celebrating instead (because we know that one day Tisha B'Av will become a Yom Tov!).

I can't wait for that day.

TYH x
INKREDIBLE KIDS

Morah Tziri, founder of InKredible Kids and host of the InKredible Kids Podcast, where I create fun, meaningful, and mind-expanding content for kids of all ages to learn, grow, and enjoy.

TYH x

INKREDIBLE KIDS

Congratulations to Dina from Monsey on winning last week's raffle!

Draw your own Thank You Hashem picture!

---

SEND US YOUR DRAWING AND WIN!

Take a picture while holding your TYH artwork from this book and you will be entered to win awesome TYH Merch!

Send us your picture: 347.987.1387

Email your picture to contests@tyhnation.com

Post and tag us @tyhashem on Instagram

Submitted photos may be used for Thank You Hashem marketing